Director's Responsibilities and Approval

The director is required by the Companies Act of South Africa, to maintain adequate accounting records and is responsible for the content and integrity of the financial statements and related financial information included in this report. It is his responsibility to ensure that the financial statements fairly present the state of affairs of the company as at the end of the financial 4 months and the results of its operations and cash flows for the period then ended, in conformity with the General Recognised Accounting Practice. The external auditors are engaged to express an independent opinion on the financial statements.

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with the General Recognised Accounting Practice and are based upon appropriate accounting policies consistently applied and supported by reasonable and prudent judgments and estimates.

The director acknowledges that he is ultimately responsible for the system of internal financial control established by the company and places considerable importance on maintaining a strong control environment. To enable the director to meet these responsibilities, the sets standards for internal control aimed at reducing the risk of error or loss in a cost effective manner. The standards include the proper delegation of responsibilities within a clearly defined framework, effective accounting procedures and adequate segregation of duties to ensure an acceptable level of risk. These controls are monitored throughout the company and all employees are required to maintain the highest ethical standards in ensuring the company's business is conducted in a manner that in all reasonable circumstances is above reproach. The focus of risk management in the company is on identifying, assessing, managing and monitoring all known forms of risk across the company. While operating risk cannot be fully eliminated, the company endeavours to minimise it by ensuring that appropriate infrastructure, controls, systems and ethical behaviour are applied and managed within predetermined procedures and constraints.

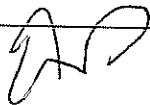

The director is of the opinion, based on the information and explanations given by management, that the system of internal control provides reasonable assurance that the financial records may be relied on for the preparation of the financial statements. However, any system of internal financial control can provide only reasonable, and not absolute, assurance against material misstatement or loss.

The director has reviewed the company's cash flow forecast for the 4 months to 30 June 2011 and, in the light of this review and the current financial position, he is satisfied that the company has or has access to adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future.

The external auditor's is responsible for independently reviewing and reporting on the company's financial statements. The financial statements have been examined by the company's external auditor's and their report is presented on page 3.

The financial statements set out on pages 4 to 10, which have been prepared on the going concern basis, were approved by the on 28 July 2010 and were signed on its behalf by:

E Kruger

5. Comparative figures

The reporting period is shorter than a year, therefore comparative amounts are not comparable to the current balances.

6. Going concern

We draw attention to the fact that at 30 June 2010, the company had accumulated losses of R (16 723) and that the company's total liabilities exceed its assets by R (15 723).

The financial statements have been prepared on the basis of accounting policies applicable to a going concern. This basis presumes that funds will be available to finance future operations and that the realisation of assets and settlement of liabilities, contingent obligations and commitments will occur in the ordinary course of business.

The ability of the company to continue as a going concern is dependent on a number of factors. The most significant of these is that the director continue to procure funding for the ongoing operations for the company and that the subordination agreement referred to in note of these financial statements will remain in force for so long as it takes to restore the solvency of the company.
