COMMUNIQUE

TO ALL ROLEPLAYERS OF THE MARKET

The City of Tshwane's Fresh Produce Market is developing a new online market trading system that will operate in real time and be available to users all hours of the day.

This new trading system will be designed to accommodate change, with process solutions connecting different systems on one interface. To ensure optimal functionality, an all-inclusive approach will be used to develop the system. Factors such as organisational strategy, governance, processes, technology and the input captured from all stakeholders will be incorporated.

The City is of the opinion that by ensuring appropriate managerial and governance control over trading, the system will not only increase return on investment for all stakeholders, but will also reduce delays and costs in trading activities.

The project will be done by Business Enterprises and FlowCentric Technologies. Business Enterprises forms part of the University of Pretoria and has an extended network of ICT specialists. FlowCentric Technologies is a proud partner of Microsoft and implements business critical processes in record time.

Kind regards

Mr Patrick M. Mphahlele
