

TRAFFIC SYSTEM

There are three green lights at trunk route intersections: The green disk is for straight-driving and left-turning vehicles (image 1). The green bus is for buses only (image 2). The green arrow is for right-turning vehicles (image 3).

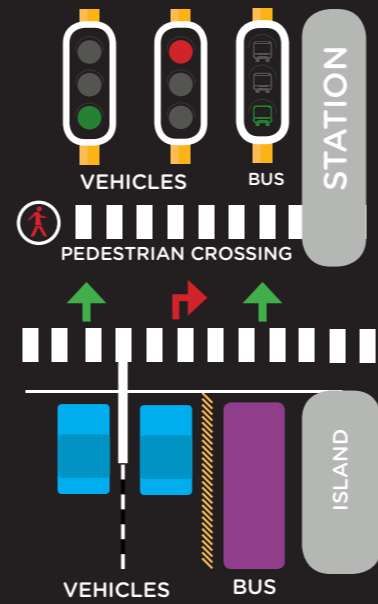

When the red disk under the white arrow is red, vehicles intending to turn right must wait (image 3).

When the red bus is shown (image 4) and the green arrow starts flashing (image 3), straight-driving vehicles (image 1) and vehicles turning right can go.

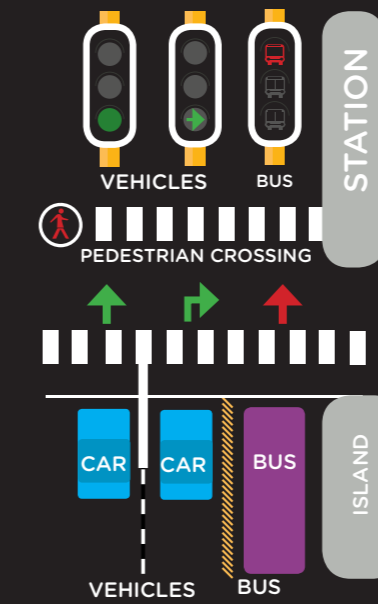

Vehicles turning right must therefore always observe and adhere to the signal display under the white arrow.

The traffic signal system will give priority to buses in some cases in order to ensure that they adhere to their timetable. Motorists should therefore note that traffic signal phases may change suddenly and will not always run in the same sequence, and therefore they have to pay attention to the applicable signal displayed.

NO RIGHT TURN ACROSS BUS LANE

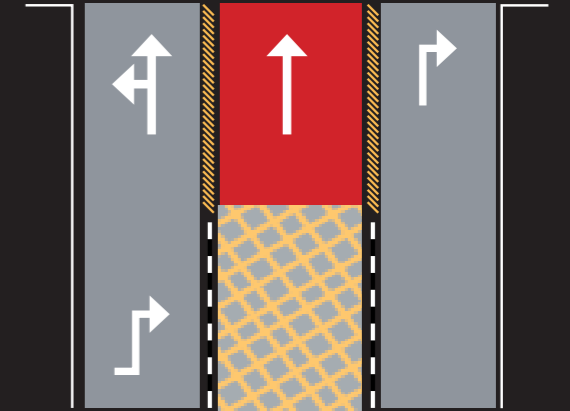

RIGHT TURN ACROSS BUS LANE

PLEASE NOTE: THE TRAFFIC SIGNAL SYSTEM IS ABLE TO GIVE PRIORITY TO BUSES IN SOME CASES, TO ENSURE THAT THEY ADHERE TO THEIR TIMETABLE. MOTORISTS MAY THEREFORE OBSERVE THAT TRAFFIC SIGNAL PHASES MAY CHANGE SUDDENLY AND WILL NOT ALWAYS RUN IN THE SAME SEQUENCE, AND THEREFORE HAVE TO PAY ATTENTION AT ALL TIMES TO THE APPLICABLE SIGNAL DISPLAY.

ROAD LINE MARKINGS FOR RIGHT-TURNING VEHICLES

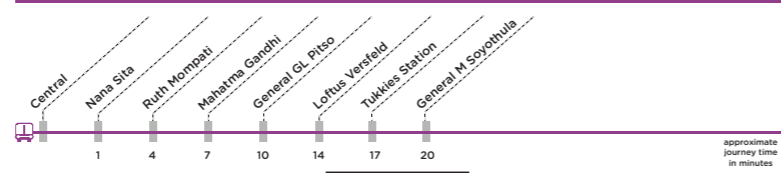

In some situations there will be no right turn at the junction stop line and a right-turning vehicle must manoeuvre into the right turn pocket across the bus lane in advance of the junction as shown in the sketch below.

SLIDING ARROW SHOWS WHERE TO TURN ACROSS BUS LANE INTO RIGHT TURN POCKET - YELLOW DELINEATORS WILL BE REMOVED AT THIS LOCATION.
